2023 Leeuwin Estate Brut

“This is a blend of 58% chardonnay and 42% pinot noir, so it's a classic combination, and obviously in this season, accessed some very good fruit. This is a fine and quite delicate expression of this wine, which over the years seems to have become more refined and more elegant. It has a steely thread of minerality, but some nice fruit intensity, albeit held tight and close as it extends through to a sustained finish. A wine that is complete through the middle palate before it extends on its journey. Perhaps best now as an aperitif style.” 92 points.

Ray Jordan, WA Wine Review 2026

“Light and bright lemon-yellow tones with a fine bead at the rim. Peach, jasmine and backing lemon pie aromas. Bright and fresh, very citrus and green apple on the palate with hints of deeper biscuit building as it sits on the palate. Good length, tight and focused into the finish. A crisp aperitif style.” 91 points.
